

Towarowa Giełda Energii (TGE) honoured by CFI.co for the fourth time

Press Release

- London-based Capital Finance International (CFI.co) magazine has recognised TGE's activity for the fourth time. This time, the Polish Exchange was awarded the title of Best Commodities Exchange ESG Strategy Europe 2023.
- CFI.co annually indicates companies and organisations from around the world, which are contributing to the convergence of economies and, through their activities, driving global progress while becoming an inspiration to others.

The idea behind the plebiscite organised by CFI.co is to identify and recognise companies and institutions that contribute to the development of the global economy and stimulate progress worldwide. Every year, from thousands of nominations, the competition jury selects a short list to finally announce the winners in each category. TGE has been among the winners for the fourth consecutive year.

"The pace of change we have been experiencing in recent times can be intimidating but also encouraging. The positive aspects of the progress can be felt, among other things, in the attitude of companies to develop their business in an increasingly responsible manner. This is also the case of trading platforms which are integrating ESG criteria into their business to address social, employee-related and ethical aspects while reducing their environmental footprint. We are delighted that, thanks to the ESG strategy for 2022-2025 adopted by TGE as part of the whole WSE Group, we can shape our business in a sustainable manner, while at the same time striving to promote responsible behaviour by, among other things, educating market participants and promoting value-driven attitudes. Because it's worth it! The title of 'Best Commodities Exchange ESG Strategy Europe 2023' we were awarded by CFI.co magazine this year is a great honour for us. It is fantastic to be among the winners of this prestigious plebiscite again" said Piotr Zawistowski, CEO of TGE.

The first time TGE was presented with the CFI.co award was in 2020, when it was honoured as the Best Sustainable Commodities Exchange Central Europe 2020. For the next two years, TGE retained this title to win in 2023 in a completely new category, namely Best Commodities Exchange ESG Strategy Europe 2023.
